SIX-PAGE EDITION.

CARSON people have set their heart on having at their District Fair this week a Reno day. Thursday has been suggested as a good day. Reno cannot afford to decline the invitation. At the next session of the Legislature we shall need an appropriation for the support of the State University; another for the Insane Asylum. We shall need other favors. Besides, our reputation is at stake. Reno must not be out one in courtesy and public spirit by Carson. We want to owe Carson no such debt, we want upon our enterprising town no such stigma. If it be made unanimous the GAZETTE will close down its office; its employees will be permitted to attend; everything will be done by us to favor the Ormsby Fair. It is time that the business men of Reno be heard from on this matter.

RENO, not being a town much given to speculation, there is nothing particular to complain of in the financial situation here. Business is good, to begin with. Next, although money is not as plenty as it sometimes has been, there is fairly enough to keep the wheels turning, and no especial difficulty is experienced in obtaining it by those who have any occasion to go outside of their supply. Of course the fix into which the Pine street speculators and others have got that great financial center, is followed by a sympathetic feeling here, to a certain extent. Reno's business and financial situation are in a good shape, and that implies all that could be reasonably wished.

LABOUCHERE accounts for the failure of English women to exercise their liberty of wearing trousers by the assertion that "trousers do not offer the same scope for decoration as petticoats," that they "cannot be trimmed to any considerable extent; and that the 'improver,' or bustle, worn under them would be absurd." He has never seen Sir John Macdonald's Windsor trousers—that's evident. They are extensively trimmed, much more so than most petticoats.

THAT the Fair edition of the GAZETTE was appreciated by the public is evident from the many letters and postal cards received asking for copies containing certain articles and items. One writer says: "The enterprise you displayed Saturday in getting a complete list of prizes awarded at noon of that day in live stock exhibits is commendable and bound to win. Please send me ten copies of that issue."

THE bill making it a penal offense to teach whites and blacks in the same school, which has been for some time pending in the Georgia Legislature, has been killed. A substitute was passed in one house but the other will not adopt it.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

[PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE.]

Murder and Suicide.

DENVER, Oct. 2.—Frank Campbell, foreman of the bridge gang on the Santa Fe Railway, was killed at 9 to-day by one of his men, Mike McGraw. The latter has been out of his right mind more or less since last Summer, when he became overheated. He thought Campbell was making efforts to injure him and that he was an enemy. McGraw went to Campbell's residence this morning, and after an exchange of greeting, walked with Campbell into his bedroom, the latter having agreed to go up the street with him as soon as he could change his clothes. As soon as the two men entered the room, McGraw shot at Campbell three times. One ball took effect within three inches of the heart. Campbell ran out into another part of the house and when the neighbors arrived they found him on the kitchen floor with his head in his wife's lap. He died in a few minutes. After killing his best friend, McGraw rushed out the back door and shot himself through the head, killing himself instantly. McGraw was single and from New York. Campbell leaves a wife and three children, and was originally from Vermont.

What a Defective Cable Did.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 2.—This evening a strand came loose of the cable of the Walnut Cable road, and wrapped around the grip of a car coming west on Sixth street. The car, which was full of passengers, could not be freed, and rushing on overtook another car, which had stopped at a crossing. This car was pushed along. Brakes were set hard on both, but without effect. The cars rushed on in the darkness, sparks flying from the wheels, passengers screaming and hundreds of excited people following the cars and shouting. Dashing onward the runaway cars soon struck a horse car at the crossing of Fifth and Sixty-ninth, throwing it into a deep ditch. At the same time the runaway cars were also dived, giving such a violent wrench to the cable that four other cars on the way up Walnut Hill were derailed. The shock was greatest to those cars. When the result of the affair was summed up it was found that thirty or forty people were badly bruised. Lewis Kolb probably fatally hurt, but the others will be around to-morrow, it is thought.

The Knights of Labor.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 3.—General Assembly Knights of Labor was called to order in Washington. Rink this morning by J. P. McLaughy, Secretary of the Co-operative Board and Chairman of the local Committee of Arrangements. The rink was handsomely decorated and contained about 3,000 people. McLaughy read telegrams from Powderly and Secretary Lichman, stating that they had been unavoidably detained and could not arrive until the afternoon. Governor McGill had been called east and was not able to make the address of welcome on the part of the State. McLaughy made a brief speech of the growth of the order in the Northwest, and introduced Mayor Ames, who made a formal address of welcome.

Fire in Denver.

DENVER, Oct. 3.—Cooper, Hagues & Co.'s four story furniture house took fire at 12 o'clock to-day and is still burning. It is feared the stock and building will be totally destroyed, as the department have not yet got the flames under control. The stock is valued at $100,000; insurance, about half. The building is valued at $50,000. It is supposed to have started from the explosion of chemicals in the cellar. As no wind is blowing, adjoining buildings are in no great danger, as the firemen think they are able to keep the flames from spreading.

He was the Fighting Editor.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 2.—Informal mail reaches here to-night of an attempt made last night to shoot Governor Martin at Atchison. The Governor was walking home with a friend and was accosted by John M. Reynolds, a journalist, who used vile language. Martin remonstrated, when the fellow drew a large pistol. Before he could use it, however, a policeman disarmed him and took him to the station.

A Memorial Discourse.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Rev. Dr. Parker, of the City Temple, London, who is to pronounce the eulogy on Henry Ward Beecher, in the Brooklyn Academy of Music on Monday night, preached to-day in Plymouth Church, Brooklyn, in the pulpit where his friend stood for 40 years. His subject was, "Not Here, but Risen." The sermon was largely a memorial discourse.

A Monster Meeting.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—A mass meeting attended by 10,000 persons was held to-day at Tower Hill. Speeches were made from six platforms condemning the Government's Irish policy and the conduct of the police at Mitchelstown.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEVITIES.

Miss Chester's Condition.

Miss Mary Chester, matron of the School for Girls, is very ill of blood poisoning in consequence of having run a needle in her foot one day last week. Dr. Brounson was summoned from Virginia City to attend the case, and is hopeful of the lady's ultimate recovery. Daily bulletins are telegraphed Bishop Whitaker at Philadelphia, stating the various changes for better or worse in the patient's condition.

Mrs. E. J. Burrows, was admitted to practice as attorney and counsellor by the Nevada county, Cal., Superior Court. The lady passed an excellent examination in open court. We believe this makes the fourth lady lawyer in the State.

At Downsville, last week, Michael Charbonna was convicted of attempted rape committed on the little three year-old child of Mrs. Graham, at Sierra Valley about a month ago. Last Wednesday, Judge Soward sentenced him to imprisonment at San Quentin for fourteen years.

A Useful Precaution.

It is a useful precaution for the tourist, the commercial traveler, or the emigrant to the West, to take along Hostetter's Bitters. Invalids who travel by steamboat or rail should provide themselves with it in order to prevent or remedy the nausea which the jarring and vibration of vehicles in motion often causes them. Vastly preferable is it for this simple, but useful purpose, to the heavy unmedicated stimulants of common wine, which, if not only remedies sea sickness, but neutralizes the pernicious effects of water slightly brackish, which if undiluted, is apt to give rise to irregularities of the bowels, cramps in the abdominal region and dyspepsia. To the acute poison of malaria it is an efficient antidote. At headache, heart-burn and wind upon the stomach are promptly banished by it. It healthfully stimulates the kidneys and bladder, and nullifies the early symptoms of rheumatism.

Take It in Time.

A man who presents an appearance of debility, whose countenance is anxious, and who is subject to spells of faintness, is liable to sudden death from heart disease. Let him take Dr. Felt's Heart Remedy before it is too late. At druggists. 11 1/2. Describe the bottle with each bottle; or address J. J. Mack & Co., S. F.

AN IMPORTANT ENTERPRISE.

E. G. Wheeler Making Preliminary Arrangements.

The GAZETTE is pleased to announce that Reno is not only attracting the attention of wheat, mining and other capitalists, but the most important of all elements to its immediate development, and that of the whole State, the cattle men.

The latter are all important factors, so far as making Reno the shipping center, west of Denver, for the excellent cattle raised in the sagebrush State or the so-called barren and alkali Nevada. Yesterday a GAZETTE reporter met E. G. Wheeler, of Chicago, and was informed that that gentleman was the agent of a syndicate (representing millions of dollars) for the purpose of having all the beef packed here which must come from contiguous Territories and neighboring States, for shipment.

Mr. Wheeler's plan is to erect large and extensive slaughtering houses, purchase all the cattle procurable and by the same process used in Omaha and Chicago, kill, cure and prepare the beef for immediate shipment to either Chicago or San Francisco in refrigerated cars, thus enabling the consumers of Nevada beef to have it in its purity, as we enjoy it at home. The transportation of live stock and sheep on railroad cars deprives the beef of its peculiar excellence. Mr. Wheeler seems to have comprehended our situation and will no doubt meet with success, while every cattle man in the country will hail his venture with delight and Reno grow prosperous over the introduction of this needed industry among the many that will characterize her future.

A PECULIAR CASE.

A Lad Thrown from a Horse and Unconscious for Thirty-six Hours.

A peculiar and most distressing accident occurred last Saturday to Charles Knox, a 14-year-old son of H. L. Knox, of Reno. Mr. Knox is employed at Verdi, and Charley has been spending his vacation with his father. Last Saturday morning Knox saddled a horse and started the boy on an errand to Essex, a mile and a half distant. At 4 o'clock, as the boy had not returned, the father became uneasy, and messengers were sent out to look him up. The child was found lying under a pine tree, about half way between Essex and Verdi, in an unconscious condition and badly bruised about the head and face. He was taken to Verdi, and subsequently, on Saturday night, was brought to Reno. The child has been unconscious from the time he was found, and cannot recognize his father or mother. The physicians are of the opinion that he fainted while riding the horse and fell off, sustaining a concussion of the brain. While he is in a very serious condition, the doctors hope to bring him out all right. The grief-stricken family have the sympathy of a host of friends.

John W. Mackay and the Comstock.

A GAZETTE reporter made a flying trip to Virginia City yesterday, and among the many things that he saw and heard were that everybody up there expected a boom. Mr. Mackay is on the Comstock and will remain for some time to come. A brief conversation with him indicated that he had lost no faith in the future, but, on the contrary, he appeared to be in the best of spirits. He was just leaving for the Con. Virginia shaft when he suddenly turned and said: "Whenever I say yes or no I mean it." Nothing beyond this was learned, only that the mines never looked better and that under the management of Mr. Mackay people had great confidence in their future. The reporter walked away, honestly believing that such was the case. To sum up, he was convinced that there was a deal to be made in stocks very shortly.

Miners in Marysville.

A committee of hydraulic miners from Scales Diggings and Brandy City, Sierra county, went to Marysville to have a consultation with the anti-debris people in the hope of securing a promise not to prosecute if the system of dams which they propose to build will hold back all the tailings. They went prepared to make a very extensive argument and met the anti-debris people on the 28th ult., but failed to get any promise to let alone, if they impounded their debris.

From Peavine.

Hon. A. D. Griffin of the Peavine District arrived last night and is in the most hopeful mood over that district's future. He told a GAZETTE reporter this morning that they had started a team in yesterday bearing ore to the Reno reduction works, and that every day this week, to the amount of from 10 to 15 tons would be transferred to Reno. Mr. Griffin believes that some of the old "moss backs" of our thriving city will be killed with astonishment when they read of the results of Peavine's treasure.

The Prize Bull.

W. E. Polk, of Halleck, whose bull Homestretch won the first prize, told a GAZETTE reporter that he would not only have numerous photographs taken of the animal, but that in a few weeks would have a cut made so that the readers of the WEEKLY GAZETTE and STOCKMAN, who could not attend the Fair, may see his counterpart in its columns. The gentleman with all his cattle left for home on Saturday evening, much pleased with the results.

A Nevada Physician Not Good Enough.

Dr. Richardson, of Delaware, arrived at Nevada Agency, Pyramid Reservation, on last Saturday. He succeeds Dr. Walker as physician there.

BRREVITIES.

Local and General News.

Reno is herself again.

County Recorder Williams is reported seriously ill this afternoon.

Fish season commenced to-day at Pyramid, R. H. Cowles being the chief drifter.

The article on our public schools will appear in to-morrow's issue, and not in to-day's as was stated in our last.

A letter addressed to F. R. Bourquet was lost at the race track. It opened, all right. Return to this office.

Judge Henry Cook, who died at Carson last Saturday, was father of Mrs. Colonel John H. Mills, who formerly was matron of the State Orphan's Home.

On the Pyramid Reservation, somebody, who has an eye to the eternal fitness of things, has named the only blind Indian boy there "Grover Cleveland."

Professor Joseph O'Connor, of San Francisco, has accepted the position of instructor at the State Teachers' Institute to be held in Reno Thanksgiving week.

"The boys" broke a faro game in Reno on Friday night. The amount won was upwards of $1,900, and one of our prominent citizens is said to have captured $1,000 of it.

A. T. Jones, manager of the Thermalito Colony, writes that he has arranged for special railroad rates, and it is probable an excursion party will be arranged from Reno there November 10th.

Mr. E. G. Tives, so long the manager of his brother's popular saloon, the Monarch, has accepted a position at the Depot Hotel, where his knowledge of mixology is apparently highly appreciated by the traveling public.

J. E. Jones on Saturday last purchased from Theodore Winters his chestnut stallion, River Rider, a full brother of the celebrated Dynamite. The price paid is variously placed at between $1,500 and $2,000. The stallion will appear at the Carson Fair.

PERSONAL.

Joseph Frey, of Verdi, is very sick with typhoid fever.

Judge Sabia returned to Carson from San Francisco yesterday morning.

General Keating, of the Comstock was a passenger for the Bay last Saturday evening.

Farmer C. L. Lowery, of Pyramid Reservation, who has been attending the Fair, left for home yesterday.

James Riley, for some time head smelter of the Richmond Consolidated, is a guest at the Lake House.

Miss Annie Brewer, of Washington, D. C., sister of Mrs. W. Julien, will arrive this evening on a visit to her sister.

Hon. M. D. Foley and wife and Mrs. W. E. Griffin left on this morning's express train for their homes in Eureka.

Mr. Jason C. Smith, who has been in San Francisco for the past four or five weeks, expects to return home within the next four or five days.

A. M. thewsen, of Hamilton, White Pine county, after buying a Holstein bull and other blooded stock exhibited at the State Fair, left for home last evening.

John C. Dunlop and wife returned on last night's overland from Canada, where they have been visiting the scenes of their childhood. They departed for Virginia this morning.

Miss Kate Hodgkinson, for some time past a popular teacher in the public schools of Carson City, passed through here last Saturday evening for San Francisco, whither she goes to take a position in the public schools there.

A Distinguished Visitor.

Mr. V. C. McMurray, a California 49er, was in attendance at the Fair last week. He was the guest of Mr. Tom Barnett, with whom he was an old associate in Camp-tonville, California, 34 years ago. He is now a retired merchant, and it was simply a pleasure trip with him when he came to Reno. After Mr. Barnett had shown him the city and its great advantages, he said it was just 37 years ago since he passed through this valley, and although now a resident of San Francisco, he never forgot how happy he felt when he first entered it. "But to-day," he continued, while addressing his host, "I am still more favorably impressed with it, and you need not be surprised if I return shortly to Reno and invest a little money in its future possibilities." Mr. McMurray left for the Bay last night. Before leaving, however, he paid a flying trip to Carson City to pay his compliments to State Controller Hallock, who was also a chum of his in California in the early fifties. There is no question but that, like all the money men who have recently visited Reno, he can be counted upon as one of her future capitalists.

Alfalfa Hay.

It may be of interest to farmers in this immediate neighborhood to learn that notwithstanding the statement already published in several newspapers of the State that all the hay in Mason Valley had been sold, that such is not the case.

A GAZETTE reporter met Hon. Gallagher, ex-State Senator from Esmeralda, at the Mound House yesterday, and was informed by him that there were still 10,000 tons for sale and that it was in good condition and would not be sold on "hay deal," but at reasonable profit to the men who labored hard to bring it to market.

A Switch in Time.

A new platform at the railroad depot would be appreciated by travelers generally and our citizens particularly. The constant running of freight trucks from one train to another has worn out the planking. A large stake has been placed in one of the holes as a "danger signal," but as it projects but a few inches above the walk, it only serves as a stumbling block at night when the platform is crowded with people. What's the matter with putting in a few new planks?

lays County Teachers' Institute.

Through a committee of five, consisting of Crittenden Hampton, J. H. Shannon, A. E. Janvier, Mrs. C. L. Logan and Mrs. M. E. T. Stevens, a teachers' institute is being arranged for November 10th at Bishop Creek. The committee have just extended to C. S. Young an invitation to conduct the institute.

Fine Jewelry.

Miller, the jeweler of Sacramento, will send by mail or express any article of jewelry that may be ordered, and will guarantee satisfaction as well as if the purchaser was present in person. His house has a reputation second to none in the State.

Portraits! Portraits!

The people of Reno and vicinity are now offered a good opportunity to have an excellent portrait made in any style or size and at very moderate prices. Merit Will Tell.

Was never better demonstrated than when "Fryer's Abietene Remedies" were awarded diplomas at the late California State Fair at Sacramento and at the Mechanics Institute at San Francisco. W. Pinniger is agent for these celebrated "Abietene Remedies" and he offers to return your money if they do not give satisfaction. In buying, be sure the fac-simile signature of D. F. Fryer is on each, as none are genuine without it.

The Perfection.

Of the age in the medical line is the liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs, manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Co., San Francisco, Cal. It is agreeable to the taste, acceptable to the stomach, harmless in its nature, painless yet prompt and thorough in its action. For sale by Wm. Pinniger, Reno, Nevada.

Occupation for Women.

The demand for good dress-makers is so great, and the supply so inadequate, that the wonder is that all women who are obliged to be self-supporting do not take up the business. The capital necessary—in addition to a natural adaptability for the work, without which success is not obtained in any business—is very small, viz., a good sewing-machine and a small amount of money to be used in advertising. There are dress-makers and dress-makers and dress-makers, good, bad, and indifferent, but a good dress-maker need never want for customers. If she but make a gown to fit and please one customer, others will soon come to her.

Of course, there is labor and responsibility connected with the business, but no one ever succeeds in anything without these. In this, as in every other profession or business, there is a field for individual labor. The woman who can design her own dresses and adapt them to the style, age and condition of her customers, holds rank among the artists of the day. There are conventional dress-makers—those who make their dresses after the French fashion-plates, utterly regardless of the characteristics of their customers—and there are women, too, who can with impunity wear these conventional clothes; while the great majority of wearers of gowns have a great and intense longing for garments entirely their own, not patterned exactly after those worn by their neighbors.

Dress-makers with ideas and sense, and judgment enough to carry them out, are what we need. By merest chance we now and then fall upon an artistic dress-maker who believes that the rules which govern art in other things should govern it in regard to covering and adorning the human body. Such a dress-maker enhances the beauty of the figure and diminishes the defects, not by padding, which is inoffensive, but by judicious selections of styles and artistic arrangements of folds and fullness.

The customer who has a fine figure, she dresses in a severely plain style, while the one who has nothing but a bundle of bones upon which to hang her gown, she arrays in full waists and multitudinous folds, which not only cover her deficiencies, but give her a really artistic and picturesque effect. She never insists upon having a customer wear a certain style simply because it is new; she knows neither old nor new; she only knows what is becoming. She has the soul of an artist, the eye of a mechanic, and fingers of an expert. Would there were a race of her, and we could all employ her.

Religion vs. Finance.

A member of a church congregation in Wisconsin, was last fall charged with gambling in stocks, and brought up before a committee for investigation. The trial began by a deacon asking: "Brother Smith, the charge is gambling in stocks."

"Yes, sir."

"And you plead not guilty?"

"No, sir, I plead guilty."

"Then you do buy and sell stocks, speculate in wheat and oats, and sell futures in pork?"

"I do, sir. Didn't I give $1,000 in cash to help build this church?"

"Well, I scooped that in on a little deal in pork. Didn't I pay in $500 on the organ?"

"Yes."

"That was part of my profits on a spec in oats. Didn't I foot a deficiency of $400 in the minister's salary this year?"

"Yes."

"That came from a rise in stocks. Didn't I chip in $700 toward the parsonage?"

"Yes."

"That came from a corner in oats. Haven't I whacked up on the orphan asylum, the new bridge, the park and the fire engine?"

"Well, that means more corners, and holding on till I felt my hair growing gray. Gentlemen, I will step out for a moment and let you reach a verdict."

"He stopped, but it was only thirty seconds before he was called in and congratulated on the verdict of 'not guilty.'"

—Wall Street News.

A Mathematical Masticator.

A pale man with a high forehead, came into Boogie's restaurant yesterday, sat down at a table and ordered his dinner. The waiter set out his pocket a large diagram apparently covered with unrecognizable signs and algebraic formulae, and fastened it with a pin upon the wall where he could easily observe it. When his dinner came he looked it over attentively, and then turned to a profound contemplation of his figures. After a while he began to eat, but with a great deal of caution and reserve, as if he were afraid of making a mistake, or suspected the biscuit of concealing a snare. Frequently he paused between the bites and his lips moved as if in prayer. The latter situation was dispelled, however, by the occasional indistinct pronunciation of the name of a numeral. He was evidently counting. He chewed with his eyes fixed upon the equations of the diagram. There was a pale, bluish tint about his face, and he looked bilious. His neighbor at the table bitched his chair a little further away and placed his hat where he could see it at a moment's notice. He suspected the new-comer of being a fanatic. Suddenly the stranger caught his eye, started and inadvertently swallowed his food. He seemed to be very much put out by the occurrence.

"Why do you look at me that way?" he demanded. "Do you think I am peculiar?"

"Well I did think your manner a little odd," ventured the other.

"Not at all, sir," returned the stranger, emphatically. "I'm a dyspeptic and my digestion is in a bad way. I have just learned of Mr. Gladstone's rules for regulating mastication so as to be in the highest degree facilitate digestion. I have adopted his system of thirty-two chews to a piece of steak, fourteen to a cold potato, etc., only I have improved upon it. What was before crude is now systematic and theoretical. It is the combinations which puzzle me. They will not when I get used to it. In the explanation sufficient?" It was, and in a few moments more the scholarly dyspeptic was plunged in the intricacies of a profound mathematical problem.

The Colonel was finding fault with Bill, one of his hands, for neglect of work, and said he would have no more preaching about his place, as they had too many protracted meetings to attend.

"Bill ain't no preacher," said Sam, "he's only a 'orter." "Well, what's the difference between a preacher and an exhorter?" "Why, you know, a preacher he takes a text, and he does good to stic to it. But a 'orter—he kin branch."

—George Goebert, fifty-eight years old, of No. 218 Moore street, Philadelphia, was found hanging in Harrison, Fraser & Co.'s Sugar Refinery, Delaware avenue and Bainbridge street this morning, where he was employed. He was dead when cut down. Domestic troubles.

DR. FISHERMAN'S CARBOLIZED ALKALINE LOTION IS TO-DAY AHEAD of all other preparations for the mercurial care of STOCK. As an external remedy it will be found unequalled for application to Sprains, Sores, (new or old), Alkali Sores, Bruises, Galls, Swellings, Scalds, Rheumatism, Mange, Itch and Skin Diseases. It will strengthen and make straight weak knees and ankles. It is invaluable as an internal remedy for coughs, colds, congestion or fever, and we sincerely believe it is just the right remedy to use during the BRANLING SEASON, as it will at once take out the fire and seal the wound over. We believe it will prevent the marks and brands from becoming fly-blown. This lotion does not contain turpentine; consequently does not torture the beast for hours. Price, ONE DOLLAR per full quart bottle, which makes half a gallon of lotion. Please give it a trial.

MAMMOTH OIL WELLS.

A Record of Six Thousand Barrels a Day.

The two greatest oil wells ever struck in the world are still spouting oceans of petroleum within thirty miles of this city. Railroad trains for Butler County are thronged daily with visitors to the field. It is estimated that in the one week past, less than 15,000 people have been to see these Baldrige gushers. Since the Christie well was brought in this week, with its first day's production of 5,300 barrels, and since the Phillips well was completed last week, with an increasing capacity of 4,500 barrels per day, interesting comparisons have been in order with other great wells of past years. The Christie well's production of nearly 6,000 barrels in twenty-four hours gives her the first place in the history of petroleum as the biggest wonder of the oil trade. Her rival, the Phillips well, with its 4,500 barrels every twenty-four hours, ranks next. Some history about other big gushers will be interesting at this time.

SOME BIG WELLS.

After the discovery of petroleum and the boring of the first oil wells in Pennsylvania, in 1858, the first large strike to attract wide-spread attention was the Hamilton McClintock well, two miles north of Oil City. In January, 1859, it started off at the rate of sixty gallons per minute, or 2,160 barrels per every twenty-four hours. The people were astounded by such a tremendous flow, and so great was the volume of greasy stuff that they could not get sufficient storage for it, and much of it went to waste. This shameful waste is well illustrated in the case of the Cornplanter Oil Company's well on the Clapp farm, in Venango county, one year later. It was by no means a large well, but 100 barrels were filled in the first sixteen hours, and the waste filled a pond twenty-five square rods in extent.

But it was in September of 1861 that the most intense excitement was created all over the country by immense wells. Oil Creek developments in Venango county had progressed as far as the Tarr farm, without doubt the most prolific piece of territory ever discovered. All at once the Dom Pedro or Phillips well, No. 2, struck oil at the depth of one thousand feet. A perfect geyser spouted forth. In the first twenty-four hours she vomited four thousand barrels, and kept that rate up for quite a long period. The excitement knew no bounds. Thousands of speculators who had at first held aloof now rushed in on the infant petroleum industry. A few days later this excitement was greatly augmented by another huge strike.

In close proximity to the Phillips well the Empire well was finished, with a daily production of 2,500 barrels. An extract from a newspaper published in the oil regions in 1861 reads: "So much oil is now produced that it is impossible to care for it, and thousands of barrels are sent to the Allegheny river to be covered with oil for miles below Franklin. Some wells are being plugged to save production. Fears are entertained that the supply will soon be exhausted if something is not done to prevent the waste. Our waterways and farms are saturated so deep with the surplus of this dangerous fluid that vast fires are also to be feared."

GREAT FORTUNES IN OIL.

In January of 1863 the Noble and Delamater well on the Farrell farm, on Oil Creek, started off at the rate of 3,000 barrels. As a result the Caldwell well, near it, decreased one-half in production. The Delamater well was plugged it so that their well's flow would not be interfered with, paying $175,000 for it. Up to August 3d, they had sold from their great gusher 118,000 barrels of oil for $354,000, and the market rate was still $5 50 per barrel. In August of the same year the Maple Shade well was started at 1,000 barrels per day. In March of the following year it was burned, with 30,000 barrels of oil. In February, 1864, the Noble and Delamater well above alluded to was sold for $220,000. Up to that time it had produced 303,473 barrels, which, at $3 50 per barrel—less than average price—would amount to $1,062,155. Illustrating the quick decline of oil fields, we find that on November 16th, 1865, the entire production of the Tarr farm wells had dwindled down to 700 or 1,000 barrels per day.

IN THE PITIFUL DISTRICT.

From 1865 to 1872 operations in the Pitiful district occupied the attention of the people. One of the largest producers in that section was the McLaughlin well, which flowed at the rate of 1,500 barrels. Subsequently two wells with the same production were brought in on the Modoc field. The Hunter and Cummings well near St. Joe, in Butler county, was brought in November, 1874, with 1,500 barrels per day. The lady Hunter well, near it, also did 1,200 barrels. The celebrated Bullion well that caused such speculative excitement in 1876, was only a small producer—thirteen to twenty barrels an hour—but it opened up vast territory then new.

By agitation it was afterward increased to 1,000 barrels per day. In June, 1877, the drill in the Bullion region brought to light the Big Injun well, with 3,500 barrels per day. It ceased flowing on the 29th of the same month, but after being torpedoed went off again at 1,000 barrels. The Cherry Grove excitement of 1882 is well remembered. Its two greatest wells were the Murphy No. 2, rated at 3,400 barrels per day, and the famous Mystery well, "No. 646," which was generally accredited with a 1,000-barrel gait.

The size of all these wonderful wells can better be comprehended when one remembers that the average size of oil wells is from 20 to 300 barrels a day only.

Drinking places increase apace in Germany, where there are now in many places an average of one drinking shop to much less than fifty inhabitants. In Berlin the proportion is one to 116 persons, and in Hamburg it is one to seventy.

The healthfulness of this sunny city of the San Joaquin is attributed to its fine atmosphere and even climate, being free from excessive heat by day, and from chilly night winds.

In the mid-summer month, July, the average temperature at mid-day was 77.8 degrees, and the average Summer and Winter temperature is almost identical with that of Naples, Italy.

Seventeen thousand acres in this section, which represent a number of small farms, all with more or less improvements, including splendid orchards of all kinds of fruit; almonds and grapes—and this will be sold, in large or small pieces, at low figures, and on easy terms. San Joaquin county is now taking the lead over all other sections as a point for sensible, legitimate investment. Water is certain and in abundance, as we control 300,000 miner's inches of water per day for the express purpose of watering our tracts. LOCATION.

This institution, founded in 1886, is situated near the village of San Mateo, which is noted for its beauty and scenery; also for the equability and healthfulness of its climate. It is within twenty miles of San Francisco by rail, and easily accessible by carriage, and therefore particularly suited to parents in the city who wish their sons within reach in case of emergency. Trains of the Southern Pacific Company frequently, allowing visitors to go and return several times daily.

DISCIPLINE.

The Principal exercises a fatherly care and discipline over the pupils, seeking to influence and kindly lead rather than drive. The military discipline is used in a modified form, sufficient to secure regular exercise and erect carriage by drill, and habits of promptness and obedience, with orderly movements in the school-room. Experience has proved that the military drill, thus modified, is beneficial and not objectionable. Particular attention is given to the morals and manners of the pupils by both principal and teachers, it being considered an indispensable part of their training to make them gentlemen as well as scholars. This is the atmosphere of the school.

SESSIONS.

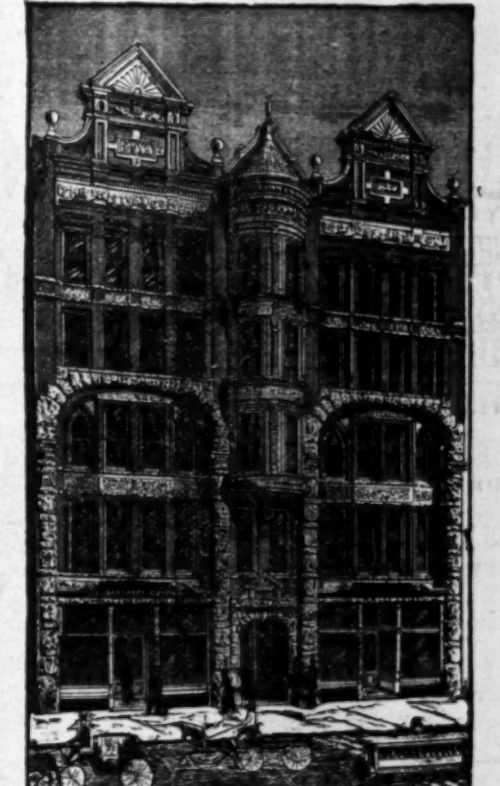

The school year is divided into two sessions of twenty weeks each. The Easter session begins about January 5th; the Trinity session about July 20th, with a summer vacation of eight weeks, and a winter vacation of four weeks. Pupils will be received at any time.

CONTRACT FOR SUPPLYING SAN FRANCISCO SCHOOLS LATELY AWARDED TO THE "AUTOMATIC"

THE "AUTOMATIC" AS COMPARED WITH OTHER SEATS.

The illustrations show the great superiority of the Rear-folding Seat over all other kinds of seats in Durability, Economy of Space, and Tendency to induce a Healthy Position. The cuts were made from Photographs of the desks themselves, and are, therefore, perfectly accurate.

From photograph of the Automatic Rear-folding Seats; in use over five years.

The Automatic Seat, being supported in front, can NEVER SAG, and as the seats fold up, and remain folded out of the way until they take their seats again, the desks are set much nearer together. The above are set the right distance apart, securing an EASY, GRACEFUL and HEALTHFUL POSITION of the pupil.

From photograph of the best (7) Hinge-Seat Desks; in use less than five years.

One great objection to hinged seats is that they wear so as to become NOISY in folding, and SAG, as the above, becoming uncomfortable, or totally unfit for use. The above desks are set the "regulation" distance apart, which distance, together with the sag of the seat, induces the AWKWARD and UNHEALTHFUL POSITION of the pupil.

Any one buying desks without considering the Automatic, will surely regret it. Send for Circulars and Price Lists, saving money.

NATIONAL SONGS.

Who Wrote Them and What Inspired Them.

The greatest poem of the war was written at Washington, by Julia Ward Howe, under the title of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." It is sung to the tune of "John Brown," and commences, "Mine eyes have seen the glory of the coming of the Lord." Mrs. Howe wrote it early one morning and it is said she penned the lines with her eyes shut. The night before she had been out riding in the country near Washington and her party had narrowly escaped being captured by a troop of Confederate soldiers. As they came into Washington they sang "John Brown's Body," and the tune kept ringing in Mrs. Howe's head all night. When she awoke before daylight she began to make verses to it, and in the fear that she would forget them she wrote them off, according to a habit she had formed to save her eyes, without looking at the paper. Mrs. Howe is still living, and she ranks among the leaders of the woman's rights movement.

Speaking of "John Brown's Body," the tune itself is an old Methodist camp-meeting tune, and the words were adapted to it by a glee club in Boston in 1861. It was first published at Charlestown, Mass. Capt. James Greenleaf, an organist of the Harvard Church, set the notes for music, and a Massachusetts regiment made their first note by singing them at Fort Warren in 1861.

The author of "Maryland, My Maryland," lives at Washington, and you may see him in the press galleries of Congress almost any day during the session. He writes gossip letters to the Augusta Chronicle. His name is James R. Randall, and he is a modest looking, dark complexioned man of 40. He must have been very young when he wrote that beautiful poem. His ideas are broader now, and he is as liberal in his views as any member of the gallery.

"America" was written by the Rev. Samuel Francis Smith in 1832, and it was first sung in Boston on the Fourth of July of that year. Like "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," it was inspired by a great tune, viz., "God Save the King." This tune is in use in nearly every country, and it has been ascribed to Handel. The writer of the words still lives in Massachusetts, and he says he wrote the song at a sitting. He is now 76 years old, and he graduated at Harvard in the same class with Oliver Wendell Holmes.

John Howard Payne's "Home, Sweet Home" was written for an opera, and he never got anything for it but his tombstone in Oak Hill Cemetery. It was first sung in the Covent Garden Theatre, at London, and made a big hit. One hundred thousand copies were sold the first year, and by the end of the second its publishers had cleared $10,000 from it.

Robert Trest Paine wrote "Ye Sons of Columbia early in 1800, under the title of "Adams and Liberty," and he was paid $750 for it. Paine was the son of one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence. He was christened Tom Paine, but on account of his dislike to Tom Paine's infidel tendencies, he had the Massachusetts Legislature change his name, and give him what he called a Christian one.

Foster got $15,000 for writing "Old Folks at Home." Crouch, the writer of Kathleen Mavourneen, received $25 for the production, and afterwards became a begging tramp while his publisher could have built a brown stone front out of its sales. George F. Morris wrote "Woodman, Spare that Tree" because the purchases of a friend's estate wanted to cut down a tree which his grandfather had planted.

"Hail Columbia" was written by Joseph Hopkinson, in the summer of 1798, and it was first called the "President's March." It was always sung when Washington came into the theatre, and one of the objects of its writing was the cultivation of a patriotic spirit among the people of the New Republic. It was first put to music by a German music teacher at Philadelphia named Roth.

"The Star Spangled Banner" was written by Francis Scott Key while watching the bombardment of Fort M'Henry, in 1814. He was in a small vessel among the British ships, and he saw his countrymen win the victory. All through the fight he watched anxiously to see if the flag was still standing, looking for it at night by the flash of the bombshells, and anxiously waiting the dawning. The song was printed in the Baltimore American eight days after the battle under the title of "The Defense of Fort M'Henry."

Many people will be surprised to learn that "Yankee Doodle" is not of American Origin. Even the words date back beyond the days of Queen Anne, and the tune is still older. In the wars of the Roundheads says Commodore Preble, in his book on the flag of the United States, "Yankee Doodle," or "Nancey," was applied in derision to Oliver Cromwell, and Professor Rimbault, a prominent musician of London, wrote a song directed at Cromwell under this title. The jingle of these two songs is about the same, and the words are not much different. Dr. Schubert first introduced the song into this country in 1775, and this was also in contempt of the ragged colonial soldiers. At Concord and Lexington the British when advancing to fight, bravely played "God Save the King," and after they were defeated the Yankees, as they watched their retreat, struck up "Yankee Doodle."

One sometimes hears strange modes of reasoning during that favorite pastime of some women, shopping. "This little scent-bag is not quite perfect," said one at the Woman's Exchange, as she called the attention of a girl in waiting to an article that lay on a table. "Now if it were for myself, I should not care at all, but I would like to buy it to give as a present to a little niece, and she's so observing that she'd notice any defect in it in a moment. Couldn't you let me have it for half-price?"

TO THE PEOPLE OF NEVADA.

We desire to state that we have one of

The Finest and Best Selected Stocks of Furniture in the State.

We carry goods that we can guarantee, and we are in a position to quote prices that defy competition. We want the people of Nevada to see our goods and compare the prices and qualities with other houses.

We Invite Competition, We Want Competition.

The more competition the more goods we will sell.

We will give the people an opportunity of comparing our goods with other houses at the coming State Fair.

We also wish to state that we have

PHOTOGRAPHS OF NEARLY ALL OUR FURNITURE.

And take pleasure in forwarding photographs with price list to any address. REMEMBER, SATISFACTION GUARANTEED.
